SAN FRANCISCO TO GREET RUSSIAN POLAR FLIERS

Troops Patrol Paris While New Cabinet Formed

Mobile Guards at Strategic Points; Chautemps Tries His Hand as Premier

Blum Asked To Take Portfolio

PARIS (AP)—Camille Chautemps, Radical Socialist ex-premier who is attempting to form a new People's Front cabinet, today offered a portfolio to Leon Blum, the outgoing Prime Minister.

The Socialist Blum, whose government fell early today, withheld his decision. It was indicated it would be delayed until a meeting of the Socialist national council tomorrow.

Truckloads of mobile guards rumbled through Paris boulevards to the capital's strategic points today as Chautemps tried to lead France out of her governmental crisis.

Steel-helmeted troops deployed in front of the Senate to prevent any demonstration against the body that overthrew the Blum ministry yesterday by refusing to grant decree powers to deal with the financial crisis.

Acting with speed, President Albert Lebrun summoned Chautemps to the Elysee Palace before dawn and designated him to form a new government.

TALKS WITH LEADERS

Chautemps, secretary of state in the retiring cabinet and Premier for two terms in recent years, immediately began a round of conferences with party leaders to determine what support he could glean for a cabinet probably uniting the same leftist elements that supported Blum.

Among his first conferees was Joseph Caillaux, head of the Senate finance committee who led the fight against Blum's decree demands, from whom he apparently sought to determine if there was a possibility of a new

MAY SEEK NEW LABOR LAWS

Government to Consider Powers in Industrial Disputes

Wider powers in labor matters, especially those relating to industrial disputes, may be sought by the provincial government at the fall session of the Legislature, it is reported in government circles.

As yet, it was learned, the cabinet has not decided how far it should go in seeking authority to intervene in labor troubles or to set up machinery to deal with them, but the issue will be discussed before the House meets.

Industrial unrest in the United States and new labor organization moves in this province are being closely followed by the government labor department.

The view in government circles is that the present machinery for handling labor and industrial troubles is limited. The Federal Industrial Disputes Act, according to the belief here, is not wide enough. It forces appointment of conciliation boards on application of one party only in disputes affecting public utilities, shipping, transportation and matters of national concern. In other cases both parties must agree to conciliation and findings of intervention boards are only binding if the parties agree beforehand. It does not provide outright arbitration.

The Legislature may be asked to pass a provincial industrial disputes law, it is stated.

Recognition of collective bargaining rights is also in question, but whether the government will look upon this favorably is in doubt. Several members of the cabinet oppose outside domination of labor organizations and fear legislation in this direction would not have the desired effect in protecting workmen.

Great Pennsylvania Plant Idle and Guarded

As the federal board attempted to mediate in the seven-state steel strike in the United States, the machinery of the Cambria plant of the Bethlehem Corporation at Johnstown, Pa., pictured above, was silent today. The works were closed at the week-end by order of Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania under a modified form of martial law. The Governor said it was necessary as a safety measure. Eugene Grace, president of the company, bitterly protested the move.

Sheriff And Deputy Appear

Plead Not Guilty on Traffic Obstruction Charge Arising Out of Eviction

On a charge of obstructing traffic on Superior Street by placing furniture in the roadway, as the result of the execution of an eviction warrant, Sheriff H. W. Goggin and his deputy, Robert Sangster, were arraigned before Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

Mr. Maclean of the Attorney General's Department, appeared for both defendants and pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Maclean expressed willingness to proceed with the hearing this morning, but C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, said there were certain witnesses he wished to call, including the evicted tenant.

Mr. Harrison said the case would probably develop into a question of law and could be shortened considerably if Mr. Maclean would not dispute facts of the case. Mr. Maclean agreed to this and tomorrow's hearing will probably be occupied principally with the legal argument.

Basque Army Is Attempting Stand After Loss Of Bilbao

Shelled and Bombed, North Spain Forces Try to Save Santander

CASTRO - URDIALES, Spain (AP)—Exposed to ceaseless shelling from the sea and bombing from the air, the tattered remnants of the Basque army entrenched themselves in the Galdames Mountains today for a fight to save Santander from the fate of Bilbao, their lost capital.

The insurgents drove them from Bilbao Saturday. Santander is 45 miles to the west.

The Basques consolidated their weary forces in the hills which parallel the highway about a

Federal Board Hears Sides; Two Youngstown, O., Plants to Reopen Tomorrow

CLEVELAND, O. (A.P.)—"Little steel" issued defiant "back-to-work" marching orders today.

With the zero hour set by steel executives for 7 tomorrow morning, involving about 24,000 men in the strike-ravaged Youngstown area, United States government mediators strove in Cleveland to effect a settlement.

The strike entered its 26th day with the death of a 12th victim, shot down in the bloody battle between Committee for Industrial Organization pickets and police at the Republic Steel plant in Youngstown Saturday night. The victim was James Perjesi, a strike picket.

Police in the Youngstown area arrested 15 men alleged to have been stopping trucks that continued to operate in defiance of a "general strike" called by the truck drivers' union. The strike has virtually paralyzed all deliveries of freight, express and other merchandise in Youngstown.

ABDUCTION CHARGES

Authorities said the 15 men arrested may be charged with kidnapping.

The back-to-work challenge by "little steel," issued jointly by Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and

Earhart Plane In East Indies

Bandoeng, Dutch East Indies—Amelia Earhart decided today to take a three-day rest and have her airplane overhauled before taking off on the next leg of her flight around the world.

She and her navigator, Capt. F. J. Noonan, landed at Bandoeng at 10.17 a.m. today (7.37 Sunday evening, P.S.T.) after a flight from Singapore over the Java Sea and a part of mountainous Java.

After the plane is checked by workmen of the Dutch air service, K.L.M., the fliers plan to take off for Darwin, Australia.

WILL DISCUSS WATER CHARGE

City Committee to Prepare Stand For Increased Rate to Saanich

Intimation that the city this year would "hold out" for an increase in the water rate to Saanich was given this morning with the announcement that the renewal of the water agreement would be discussed by the city's water board at a meeting tomorrow afternoon.

The present rate paid by Saanich is seven cents a thousand gallons and for some time the city authorities have been suggesting an increase.

Saanich, on the other hand, has been seeking for a reduction as a result of complaints of high water charges from municipal ratepayers.

With this situation it appears that settlement on the renewal of the agreement this year will probably require several meetings between civic and municipal representatives.

Yukon Transfer In Abeyance

OTTAWA (CP)—Transfer of the Yukon Territory to British Columbia, for which negotiations advanced to the point of agreement in principle as between the Dominion and the province some months ago, will not proceed further until the return from Great Britain of Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources.

The minister, who has been in England attending the Imperial Conference and is expected home within three weeks, conducted personally the negotiations which led to announcement some time ago by Premier Pattullo of British Columbia that a basis for agreement had been reached.

Further discussions will precede introduction in the Legislature of British Columbia and the Parliament of Canada the necessary bills to make the transfer valid. It is possible some representations will be made by those resident in the territory.

As Trail-blazing Airmen Tour Pacific Coast, Plane To Be Shipped To Russia

FLIERS PASSED OVER VICTORIA

Russian Airmen's Course Shows They Passed Over City at Great Altitude

The three Soviet fliers who were at Vancouver, Wash., today after completing the first non-stop flight from Moscow to the United States, passed over Victoria in the early hours of Sunday morning, according to the course which they described on their arrival.

The plane, however, was flying at an altitude of about 5,000 metres (more than 15,000 feet) during its trip down the B.C. coast, and would have been invisible and inaudible if any persons here were looking for it in yesterday morning's unfavorable weather.

After reaching Canadian territory the fliers flew over Port Mackenzie, then veered westward to British Columbia to miss the mountains. They cut over Hecate Strait, then swung southward over the Queen Charlotte Islands and past Cape Scott, the northwestern tip of Vancouver Island. They flew over the Olympic Peninsula before turning up the Columbia River.

Site Granted For Defence

The British Columbia government today turned over 90 acres of land at Albert Head to the Department of National Defence.

An order-in-council making a free grant of the property to the Dominion simply stated it was "for defence purposes."

It has previously been announced that the Dominion Government defence plans include fortification of the Albert Head area.

WILLIAM H. PARSONS

STONY BROOK, N.Y. — William H. Parsons today set noon Thursday for termination of his offer to deal with the supposed kidnappers of his socially prominent wife without interference by law enforcement agencies.

Parsons, who previously had promised immunity, read a statement to federal agents and newspaper reporters and photographers.

"If nothing is heard by noon, Thursday, June 24, I will make request to law enforcement officers to immediately proceed with any possible action to bring to justice the persons responsible for my wife's disappearance," the statement concluded.

Mrs. Parsons vanished June 9.

VANCOUVER, Wash. — Russia's three polar fliers, who landed here at 8.22 yesterday morning after a 63-hour 5,300-mile flight from Moscow, were preparing to leave for San Francisco this afternoon, but not in the great red-winged single-engine monoplane which carried them over the North Pole and British Columbia on the first non-stop flight from Russia to the United States.

They will ride southward in a cabin monoplane which was chartered to bring Russian Ambassador A. A. Troyanovsky here from San Francisco yesterday. The fliers' polar plane will be dismantled here and shipped back to Russia.

They are expected to be given a hearty welcome in San Francisco and Oakland.

Dynamic, stocky Pilot Valeri Chekaloff, whose hands never left the wheel of the monoplane during the 63 hours of the flight, was out of bed at the crack of dawn today and he was not interested in airplanes.

Dressing while his companions, Co-pilot Georgi Balbukoff and Navigator Alexander Beliakoff slumbered heavily from near exhaustion after their non-stop hop across the top of the world, Chekaloff walked briskly from his room into a heavy rain.

QUESTIONS BY SIGNS

His eyes darting interestedly about the Vancouver barracks, United States army post on the bank of the Columbia River, where the fliers landed yesterday morning, Chekaloff buttonholed soldiers and by signs — he speaks no English — tried to find out what kind of trees grew in the forested Pacific Northwest.

He wanted to know all about the vegetation of the countryside, and he indicated great interest in the army post and its buildings — what they were for and what the soldiers did.

About 8.30 a.m., Beliakoff and Balbukoff came downstairs in the home of Brig-Gen. George Marshall, commandant of the post, where the fliers were housed and joined the Russian ambassador, A. A. Troyanovsky, and Pilot Chekaloff at breakfast.

REFRESHED AND HAPPY

Although the house was barred to visitors, soldiers said the fliers appeared refreshed, happy and eager to see the details of their flight cleared up.

Soldiers said a special military board had been called to meet with the fliers during the day to inspect the plane which brought

Million Tons Of Water Fall Here

Two Inches of Rain Sets Record For Beginning of June

Storm clouds have dumped a million tons of water on the city during the last two weeks, according to computations made from figures given out by the Dominion Meteorological Observatory this morning.

Rain has set a new wet mark for the beginning of June. The two inches which have been recorded by the observatory are only approached by 1.98 inches which fell during the same period in 1890.

Vancouver, however, had more than twice as much rain as Victoria—5.63 inches falling on the mainland. This was also a record, the previous mark being 5.59 inches at the beginning of June, 1931.

The outlook today is for sunny weather.

"The situation is clearing up," W. A. Thorn, director of the observatory, reported, "there is danger, however, of a shower tonight."

This shower would probably mark the end of the wet spell, Mr. Thorn said.

RAIN WELCOMED

Aside from a little loss in strawberries and hay, the rain has been generally welcomed by farmers and gardeners.

Two inches of rain is equal to 135,000 tons of water per square mile, according to Mr. Thorn. Taking the area of the city itself at seven and a half square miles this would mean a million tons of water has fallen on roofs, gardens and streets here.

Neurath Delays Visit to London

Germany Asking Move By Powers Against Spanish Loyalists For Attacks

BERLIN—Germany today postponed the impending London visit of Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the Foreign Minister, because, it was announced, "the situation created by repeated Red Spanish attacks on German warships" requires his presence in Berlin.

By this the German authorities apparently meant the reported unsuccessful torpedo attacks on the German cruiser Leipzig off Algeria last week. These were laid by Germany to a Spanish government submarine, although the Spanish government has denied it.

Less than a month ago, Spanish government planes in the Balearic islands bombed the German battleship Deutschland, killing 31 sailors and leading to the reprisal shelling of Almeria by the German fleet.

Four-power discussions among Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy now are under way in London concerning the Leipzig incident.

Von Neurath was to have gone to London Wednesday.

Three Fliers Die In Ontario Crash

Pilot A. Leavens and Two Passengers Victims of Accident Near St. Mary's

ST. MARY'S, Ont.—Three Toronto men were killed instantly today when their airplane plunged from 1,000 feet into a Blanchard township wheat field, seven miles west of here. They were believed to have been flying from Toronto to Windsor, Ont.

Found dead by farmers were: Arthur Leavens, pilot and co-owner of the machine, and Charles Sockett and A. L. Ogden, passengers. Leavens and his brother operated a "taxi" plane service out of Toronto.

Farmers who witnessed the crash said the pilot was apparently attempting to land when one of the wings broke away during a banked turn. The crippled plane plunged to earth.

Leavens had taken off from Murray Field, Toronto, shortly after dawn with his passengers. An overcast sky made visibility only fair.

The bodies were lying some distance from the wreckage when farmers reached the scene. They believed the three men partially succeeded in jumping from the falling machine, but had not leaped clear.

cabinet obtaining decree powers to deal with a rapidly emptying treasury.

Success or failure for Chautemps seemed to hinge on whether he gained the participation or at least the support of the Socialists.

Paris took the cabinet resignation news calmly, though unverified reports of a general workers' strike were heard.

FRANC STRONGER

The franc strengthened following Blum's resignation. It was quoted at 22.30 to the dollar in the morning unofficial market, compared to 22.575 at Friday's official close.

Chautemps, whose own government fell early in 1934 after the Stavisky scandals, was a member of one of the more conservative leftist parties supporting the Blum coalition.

The resigned Premier's newspaper, Le Populaire, accused the Senate of thwarting the will of the people and declared the Senate "may very well pay dearly for the act it just accomplished."

"Can a great and free people tolerate that assembly not expressing its will and allow it to break and paralyze the other assembly that has its full confidence and which supports the government it has chosen?" the newspaper asked.

The absentee vote will play a part in the final count. Some of the totals have not been given out. The returning officer will have to examine each vote, compare the signature on the affidavit with that on the voter's declaration and then a check-up must be made to see that no one voted for the absentee in his home constituency.

Spoiled ballots will have to be examined and debated.

If when Mr. Courtney finishes his work there is a margin of less than 50 votes between the fourth and fifth candidates an application may be made for a recount before a County Court judge.

and smashed wagons and automobiles.

The Associated Press correspondent's automobile was struck by a shell splinter while he was taking this dispatch to a boat for relay by way of Bayonne, France.

All available ships in the Nervion estuary had been filled with refugees before the capture of Bilbao. Several of the ships, including the barge Gabela, with hundreds on board, were believed sunk by insurgent shells.

TEMPORARY BRIDGES

BILBAO, Spain—Improvised foot bridges were thrown across the river Nervion today to speed the movement of the main body of Gen. Francisco Franco's victorious insurgent army against Santander, last stronghold of the Basques.

A line of advance guards was pushed out about six miles west of Bilbao, taken Saturday in a whirlwind climax to a three-month siege.

Thousands of the insurgents poured down from the eastern hills, marched through the captured Basque capital and swarmed into the hills on the western edge of the city.

MOSCOW—G. A. Mgaloblishvili, Premier of the Georgian Soviet Republic, Joseph Stalin's homeland in the Caucasus region, was removed from office today.

An official announcement merely said he was being transferred to other work.

them from Moscow across the North Pole.

They said they understood the fliers and Ambassador Troyanovsky, who flew here from San Francisco yesterday to greet his countrymen after their unscheduled landing 592 miles short of their Oakland, California, goal, would leave for San Francisco at 3 p.m.

The fliers, landing after sleepless, nerve-straining hours at one point of which the polar air froze even their drinking water, were pleased when from among a group of Americans whose English left them stumped, they heard a young man shout: "Soractrachi!" ("Hello," in Russian).

Thereafter, until a guard of soldiers was assigned the visitors, George Kozmetsky was their companion.

BAD WEATHER

After their course had been picked up only at infrequent intervals, the Russians arrived over the Pacific Northwest before dawn, Sunday. Heading straight down the coast, they first wandered about in miserable flying weather and flew 125 miles south of here to Eugene, Ore.

With the weather getting steadily worse, they banked around and headed northward until they sighted the barracks airport.

Kozmetsky, a University of Washington student taking reserve officers' training at the barracks, and his tentmates, Frank Allen and Kenneth Kirtley, University of Oregon, students, saw the single-motored ship alight and recognized it.

Chekaloff, first out of the plane, mumbled a rapid-fire series of "nos" as the Americans fired questions at him. Cautiously they kept everyone out of the cabin until a guard of soldiers could surround the plane.

In the subsequent radio broadcast in which Ambassador Troyanovsky paraphrased the fliers' remarks, Chekaloff revealed that the most trying parts of the flight were in stormy weather over Bering Sea, Franz Josef Land, Patrick Land and near the North Pole.

FLEW OVER VICTORIA

The pilot traced the course up the Kola Peninsula, between Franz Josef Land and the Northwest Island, out over the Arctic wastes and across the pole southward over Prince Patrick Island, Great Bear Lake east of the Yukon and down west of Fort Simpson to Chichagof Island. From there the course lay south inside the Queen Charlotte Islands, over Vancouver Island to Victoria and down Washington's Olympic Peninsula. But for the weather, the pilot said they could have made San Francisco, as they had enough gasoline left of the original 2,000 gallons to fly 750 miles.

REGULAR ROUTE

Navigator Beliakoff in answer to questions of the ambassador, said in Troyanovsky's words:

"They (the fliers) think the problem (of a regular air route) is very much physical. They believe that over such a course planes should be equipped to fly high—say at 7,000 to 10,000 metres."

They said their flight was made at altitudes ranging from 4,000 to 6,000 metres.

The fliers were temporarily outfitted with uniforms at the barracks, although the commanding officer was hard put to it to find a pair of No. 10 shoes for one of them. Later a Portland department store gave them street clothes.

TALK WITH STALIN

During Sunday afternoon Ambassador Troyanovsky arrived by plane from San Francisco and shortly afterward the airmen awakened to receive a hearty welcome, read a telegram of congratulations from President Roosevelt, talk with Josef Stalin, Soviet dictator, who complimented them on their achievement, and converse with their families in distant Moscow.

The ambassador, appearing on the general's front porch while the fliers were being groomed for the broadcast, said the flight showed the "possibility of direct communication between the two nations."

Soon the three birdmen stepped on to the porch and drew an ovation from the crowd. They waved in return.

The actual mileage flown was left to official determination, but the distance from Moscow to Vancouver, Wash., was figured roughly at 5,300 miles, well under the official world distance record of 5,637 miles held by the Frenchmen, Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi, and the Russians' own unofficial mark of 5,858 miles between Moscow and Nicolaevsky in eastern Siberia. The Russians were believed to have flown more than the 5,300 miles, since they went past here down the coast before turning back and landing.

REPORT CORRECTED

VANCOUVER, B.C.—Concern was felt for a time Saturday night following a Canadian National Railway Telegraphs report that the Russian trans-polar plane had been forced down on the northern tip of Queen Charlotte Island.

The telegraph office in Vancouver, after saying the information was "authentic," checked it and found it incorrect.

The office said the information was from the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals in Edmonton. At the same time the signal corps announced the plane was flying over Queen Charlotte Islands and was "all right."

MEDIATION EFFORTS PRESSED TODAY IN U.S. STEEL STRIKE

by Republic Steel, drew a swift counter-challenge.

"As soon as somebody goes in those plants," said John Mayon, Youngstown director of the steel workers' organizing committee, "the SOS will go out and there will be trouble. There will be so many men (strikers) down there they won't go in."

Simultaneously, the threat of a general strike of 10,000 members of organized labor rumbled in Warren, 14 miles from Youngstown.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

The threat developed immediately after Judge Lynn B. Griffith had granted the Republic Steel Corporation an injunction restraining the activities of strike pickets.

Despite the court order picket lines began to mass in fast-thickening formation around the plant at Warren.

In Cleveland, John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, left the federal mediation board conference after an hour and a half of discussion on the question of signed labor contracts—the prime matter of dispute in the seven-state "battle of steel" which has set more than

HONORE MERCIER PASSES AWAY

CHATEAUGUAY, Que.—Honore Mercier, K.C., a Quebec cabinet minister for 22 years under two premiers and a member of the provincial legislature for almost 29 years, died Saturday night.

The 62-year-old retired Liberal politician, son of a former Quebec Premier, succumbed suddenly after a heart attack at his home in this village, 30 miles south of Montreal. He had been out of politics almost a year.

Up to his withdrawal with the retirement of the Taschereau Liberal government last June, he had sat consecutively in the Legislative Assembly—the province's elective house—since December 16 of 1907.

He had served in cabinets of Premier Sir Lomer Gouin and Premier Taschereau since 1914.

Moon Shines Too Little on Hebrides

STORNOWAY, the Hebrides—The town council is mad at the moon. It has not shone lately, so the street lighting bill is up 10 per cent.

Careful of their "saxpences," the Scots turn the street lights out when the moon shines bright on these northern islands.

Now the entire Hebrides are throbbing to the following official announcement:

"The bad weather has deprived us of the use of the moon practically throughout the season."

HOSPITAL BANQUET

NEW WESTMINSTER—The Royal Columbian Hospital today looked back on 75 years of service to the New Westminster district. On Saturday night a banquet was held at which messages from Premier and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Hon. G. M. and Mrs. Weir, and representatives of hospital and health organizations were read.

OIL WORKER LOSES LIFE

AGED MAN LOSES LIFE
KINGSTON, Ont.—John McKenzie, 76, was burned to death early Sunday in a fire that destroyed his home on McKenzie Island in the St. Lawrence River about seven miles from Kingston. His two aged sisters, Annie and Jennie, were rescued by an adopted boy, Jack Norton, 21.

GERMANS DIE IN HIMALAYAS

Avalanche Kills Sixteen Members of Expedition Attempting Nanga Parbat

SIMLA, India—Sixteen members of a German Himalayan expedition were killed by an avalanche, the British political agent at Gilgit, northern Kashmir, reported Sunday.

Seven Germans and nine Gurkha porters were overwhelmed in a huge slide, the agent stated. They were members of an expedition that reached India early in May to attempt the ascent of Mount Nanga Parbat, 26,629-foot peak in the western Himalayas.

The British agent left Gilgit for the scene of the disaster, presumably on or near Mount Nanga Parbat.

The expedition's leader, Dr. Karl W. Win, professor of geography at Munich University, escaped.

Mount Nanga Parbat, highest peak in the British Empire, has defied all attempts to reach its summit.

This is the second German expedition to come to disaster in trying to conquer Nanga Parbat. In July, 1934, a group led by Willy Merkl, celebrated mountain climber, disappeared on the slopes of the mountain. The bodies of two, Ulrich Wieland and Dr. Wilzenbach, were discovered later.

Fernie Men Crash Into Elk River; Rescued By Passersby

FERNIE, B.C.—Rescued from the Elk River yesterday after their automobile had plunged 30 feet from a highway, Albert Poirier and Stanley Edgar, both of Fernie, were in hospital here. Edgar was reported suffering from a fracture of the skull and a lung condition from immersion in the river. Poirier sustained only shock.

Passersby who rescued the two from the river after their car had jumped from the highway, said Poirier held Edgar's unconscious form above water until the rescue was effected.

LONDON—The royal commission studying the Canadian grain situation is now in London. The body which will investigate methods of selling Canadian wheat, among other matters, arrived Saturday.

New Brunswick Liquor Increases

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—Increase of $319,856 in sales and $181,979 in profits were shown in the report of the New Brunswick Liquor Control Board for the last fiscal year, ended October 31, 1936. Total sales during the 1935-36 period amounted to $2,695,931, while the profits were $782,742.

Spirits represented the largest amount, $1,498,218, as compared with $1,311,264 in 1934-35. Wine sales dropped slightly to $335,031, but consumption of beer increased, the sales amounting to $832,794.

Youth Training Plans Are Made

Several Provinces Ready to Join Dominion in Scheme

OTTAWA—Although none of the provinces have as yet signed agreements with the Dominion for the proposed joint youth training scheme, a number have indicated their intention of participating, according to a statement issued by the National Employment Commission.

At the last session of Parliament a vote of $1,000,000 was approved for this purpose. At that time Labor Minister Norman Rogers indicated this would, perhaps, be only preliminary to some more elaborate measure. "In all we seek to do under this vote," the minister said, "we are going to try to secure a proper sense of direction through which we may be able later, if the necessity should continue, to concentrate our efforts on particular measures of re-establishment."

Object of the move is to place young men and women in a position to take advantage of any employment that may offer, and to occupy them in the meantime in a manner that will improve their ability to earn, maintain their physical fitness and improve their morale.

He resigned as president of The New York American Inc. in 1926. He also had been vice-president and general manager of the Hearst General Magazine Company, president of The Morning Telegraph Inc., and board chairman of the Butterick Company.

He was born in Stratford, Ont.

Stage and Screen Versions of Queen's Life Pass Censors

LONDON—Great Britain today had a Queen Victoria of the stage and screen for the first time.

An official ban on theatrical versions of her life was lifted at the week-end, on the eve of the 100th anniversary Sunday of her accession to the throne. One stage play and one motion picture based on her life were approved for presentation in the United Kingdom.

"Victoria Regina," Lawrence Houseman's play that starred Helen Hayes of New York, had its initial performance here today after a special performance before an audience of one, the Lord Chamberlain.

He was quoted as "satisfied" with the way the Queen was represented in "Victoria Regina," but suggested two minor changes from the original.

Less easy to please was the board of film censors. The French picture, "The Court Warfare," was sanctioned for display in Britain only after a scene showing the Queen being kissed by Prince Albert had been cut out.

The caress was described as "more of a screen kiss than a regal kiss," so the censors decided it must be eliminated.

TWO SHOT TO DEATH
DUCK LAKE, Sask.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today a four-year-old boy was the only witness of the slaying of his mother, Emmelia Hicks, twenty-two. "Daddy shot Mummy," they quoted the boy as saying. The body of the father, Mervin Hicks, twenty-five, was found later, Saturday, in a clump of bushes. He was shot to death with the 22 calibre rifle with which his wife had been killed. The weapon lay beside the body.

The Family Optometrist

So important has the matter of sight become in the present tempo of education, business, and sport, that many whole families are including regular visits to their Optometrist in their budgets. The Optometrist, after years of intensive study, is authorized by law to give the eyes a thorough examination through the use of precision instruments and fatigue tests. Where the examination indicates the need, the Optometrist then provides corrective lenses exactly meeting the individual needs of the patient. The Optometrist is responsible for the comfortable, easy vision of his patients, but this responsibility can only be discharged by the patient visiting him at regular intervals. People should not allow their eyes to go a full year without an examination.

An Epic Flight

LET US CONSIDER FOR A MOMENT the salient facts about this flight from Moscow to Vancouver City in the State of Washington. Three Russian airmen left the Soviet capital last Thursday morning, flew over the North Pole, looked down on Victoria early yesterday and brought their machine to earth in United States territory at 8.22. For 63 hours these three men went sailing through the air at an average speed of 100 miles an hour and covered approximately 5,300 miles, a large part of the distance over impossible landing territory, and we are told that Pilot Valeri Chkaloff stuck to the controls during the whole span—more than two and a half days! True, adverse weather conditions prevented them from reaching their 6,000-mile objective, Oakland, but the neighboring state of Washington was good enough for them to select as a landing place. They had accomplished one of the most amazing feats of aviation.

For lay folk whose knowledge of flying is of the sketchiest kind it is not a simple matter to find the right terms to use to pay tribute to these intrepid birdmen. We can ponder, however, over the physical and mechanical significance of this Moscow-Vancouver (Washington) non-stop flight and all its signs and portents. We can say that Soviet Russia may proudly acclaim them, as the whole world will, as a new type of pioneer in the realm of aviation, that this almost unbelievable journey through the air has set a new mark to be "flown at" by the rising generation of aviators, that it represents in itself a triumph in Russian engineering skill of which the experts of other lands naturally will take due notice. In short, moreover, one asks: What next?

Barrie

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE lost one of its shining lights and the British Empire one of its most notable and lovable—and one of its shyest—sons in the death of Sir James Barrie.

To a world torn during the last few decades by storm and stress, Sir James Barrie contributed the welcome and healing gift of humor and whimsy. Whether in the delightful fantasy of "Peter Pan" who, like its creator himself in many respects, never wanted to grow up but to remain always a boy, or, in the pawky Scottish humor of "What Every Woman Knows" and "The Little Minister," his magic pen limned the wholesome and lovable qualities of human nature or the elusive, wistful charm of fairy, with deft and convincing strokes.

A Scot by birth and instinct, Barrie inherited the traditional Puritanism of his fathers, tempered with a kindly tolerance, a broad humanity, and an inimitable twist of humor which invested his books and plays with an appealing charm. Not for him was the realism and sex-psychology so beloved by many modern writers.

It was to the child—and to that innate child in every grown-up—that Barrie appealed, and his memory always will remain fragrant and his works will endure.

Leacock Advises On Gold

STEPHEN LEACOCK, WHO AS well as a humorist, is a serious professor of economics, reassures us on the gold price issue. He breaks into this week's Barron's, financial journal, to tell us that not only will the world not abandon gold, but it can't abandon it and must go back to it. What he says, of course, is only what is reasonable, but to parts of Canada, such as this, with our economic welfare is at least partly dependent on the stimulation of a high price for our gold production, his words are comforting in these days of rumors and uncertainties.

Dr. Leacock goes farther and unloads some cautioning advice, probably needed in some circles, with regard to investments in gold mines. Even with a permanency in the demand for gold assured, he says the investor still has to remember that there are different kinds of gold mines; those that have gold in them, those that perhaps have gold in them and those that certainly have no gold in them. A cross division is that the management of each kind may be honest or crooked and that makes six kinds; and the honest ones may be wise or foolish and that makes in all nine kinds. Possibly his last remarks may seem gratuitous to those of us experienced in some British Columbia mine promotions.

Four general conclusions on the gold problem are reached by Dr. Leacock: "First, it is my opinion that anybody who permanently invests more than one-third of his savings in gold mines (even the best) is foolish and ill-advised. Second: We can never have sound international trade till we have, as we used to, automatic international money. Third: That any idea that currency can be 'managed' by expanding and contracting credit to suit the needs of industry is a dream fit only for angels, Socialists and crooks. Fourth: That the attempt to set up international 'management' would merely create a new motive of starting a first class war when the old ones—religion, white men's burdens, dictators, etc.—wear out."

Practical Diplomacy

BRITAIN HAS MADE FORMAL protest in the case of the "mine explosion" off Almeria, which damaged the British destroyer Hunter, killing eight and injuring 24 of her crew. The protest emphasizes to the Spanish loyalists the illegality of mine laying on the high seas. But beyond reserving the right to remuneration for damages, Britain apparently intends to drop the issue. As was explained in an article we printed last week from London, Britain is resorting to the Nelson strategy of putting the telescope to her blind eye in order to avoid war.

In a recent case similar of that of the H.M.S. Hunter, Germany retaliated for the bombing of one of its battleships by shelling a helpless Spanish seacoast town and slaughtering innocent women and children.

The contrast furnished by the two cases emphasizes Britain's action as the best sample of good judgment yet displayed in the Spanish conflict. With all Europe teetering above the chasm of war, deliberate old John Bull in reviving the Nelson touch seems to have made use of diplomacy in its most practical sense.

Silent Alarm Bell's Story

AT THE SYDENHAM HOSPITAL of the Baltimore City Health Department, which takes care of communicable diseases only, the largest ward is equipped with an alarm bell. When the button is pressed, the alarm rings all over the hospital, in every corridor, in the administration building, the internes' quarters, and the nurses' home.

Ten years ago that ward was filled with diphtheria patients. A nurse was in constant attendance, every minute of the day and night, watching the patients. For most of them life depended on a tube stuck through an opening from the outside of the throat to the trachea or windpipe. The thick membrane of diphtheria closed the air passages from nose and throat, and all the air the patient got came through the tube. If the tube became clogged, suffocating death followed in a few minutes. That was the emergency for which the nurse watched constantly. When it came, she rang the alarm. Doctors dropped everything else, came at a run to the diphtheria ward. Whoever got there first set to work at once inserting a new tube.

The alarm bell is silent now. Small two-bed or single wards take care of all the diphtheria patients brought to the hospital. The large ward is occupied by patients suffering from other communicable diseases. The reason: Toxin-antitoxin or toxoid given to a child long before he starts to school protects him against diphtheria. In recent years, since the discovery of this means of preventing diphtheria has led to active control work, the deathrate from this disease in Baltimore has dropped sharply. While in 1925 there were forty-four diphtheria deaths in Baltimore residents, only two such fatalities occurred in 1935.

The figures tell the story, and so does the silent alarm bell.

Prelude to Peace

LIBERAL TRADE POLICIES ARE the cure for the world's economic health and sanity, Francis B. Sayre, United States Assistant Secretary of State, said at the convention of the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade.

"Economic nationalism must be resisted," said Mr. Sayre. "Trade barriers must be reduced; discriminatory practices must cease."

"No peace machinery, however perfectly devised, can operate with success among nations which are economically at war."

Or, as Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada put it the other day at the Imperial Conference: "Enduring peace cannot be achieved without economic appeasement; political tension will not lessen without an abatement of the policies of economic nationalism and economic imperialism."

Count Your Blessings

THERE ARE PEOPLE IN VICTORIA who continue to complain about the weather. They say it is cold. Well, it is not warm. But, what Victorians seem to forget, in their fortunate climate, is that they do not have to look out for "twisters," dust storms, grasshopper plagues, lack of water, gangster epidemics, and what not.

For goodness sake let the people of this favored community forget their grouches and go on their knees in appreciation of the pleasant lines in which their lot has been cast.

Notes

Brief history of cause and effect in Germany: 1914, scrap of paper; 1937, paper hanger.

If insects cannot think, how do all the bugs in a square mile or so figure out where the picnic is?

Dumb animals are the ones that grow old without overtaxing their hearts in an effort to be young again.

A California psychologist says many married men are big babies. This will be doubted by all married people who are men.

One of the papers prints a picture of soldiers in Spain praying for help. They probably missed a few children the day before.

Religious services will supplant solitary confinement at an eastern penitentiary. Certainly, solitary confinement has not done what it was supposed to do. The idea originally was that in solitary confinement a prisoner would meditate over his sin and come to a better way of life. In actual practice he usually sulks and decides that society has given him a raw deal. Attendance at church services might come closer to the goal of reawakening his better nature.

CHOCOLATE

LONDON.

IN SPITE of weekly raids on and daily arrests of Hamburg dock-workers and seamen by the Gestapo, reports of a considerable traffic in arms destined for insurgent Spain in the port were received and broadcast through the Third Reich by the secret radio stations, whose nightly transmission the German authorities were unable either to end or to "jam" permanently.

Behind these reports lies, The Week learns, an illegal "Arms Control Commission" established by anti-Nazi workmen in Hamburg. Although already 40 dockers have been arrested on the suspicion that they were responsible for the leakage of information—and many more on other grounds—these secret activities show no signs of flagging.

Although it is true that during the last month there are definite signs that the German General Staff has stopped the transport of large numbers of troops to the Peninsula, there has been no diminution, the Hamburg dockers report, in the export of war materials, even though Germany is a signatory to the London "Non-Intervention" Agreement.

Indeed, while resisting on tactical grounds the transport of its regiments to what it regards as a deathtrap, the German War Office to compensate for this, has actually ordered an even more intensive provision of arms, aircraft and technical experts.

Thus, on April 9, it is learned, during the loading of the 5,000-ton Danish steamer Marienburg—sailing under the Panama flag—a crate ostentatiously labeled "chocolate" suddenly burst open and dum-dum bullets rained on the heads of stevedores working in the hold of the vessel.

Thus shocked, the stevedores hurried to examine the rest of the cargo closely, finding, to their surprise no innocent sweets, but tanks and bombers in separate parts, as well as a quantity of ammunition.

DELIVERING PLANES

REPORTS from Freiburg (in Baden) reveal that, since the beginning of April, squadrons of military airplanes reach the Freiburg airport twice a week. Here the swastika symbol and the German colors are painted over and at night the planes leave for an unknown destination.

Pilots who have returned to Freiburg after completing these mysterious flights have stated that they take the airplanes to Italy and from thence fly them over the Mediterranean to insurgent Spain. These machines, they allege, are used in the offensive against Bilbao and were used in the bombing of Durango and Guernica.

A BASQUE PEASANT'S LAMENT

Oh, sky! forever giver of good things—
Fertile rain tumbling down
Upon earth on transparent wings,
Golden rays flinging shaft
Of life on the globe's swift pace—
Everywhere you lighten the planet's dark face!

Oh, sky! in yesterday's brief run
I thought these things—and many more,
I blessed you for the scenes with which you stun

Our eyes in beauty; I whispered praises
Of the air you send—along which is borne
The song of birds in rhapsody forlorn.

Ah, but it was yesterday, oh, sky!
These emotions were thought and felt—
Today all sweet things are a lovely lie,
Gracious grace and civilized demeanor melt
Away in dreamy death onto another world—
Thoughts of beauty lie in the coffin furled.

For today, oh, sky—from aerial's blue heights
You sent some fearful messengers—
From the azure air dim, noisy lights
Rolled o'er our scene in black confusion...

You see we did not know, oh, sky, you sent death flying. . . .
I write this now upon the dark earth as I lie dying. J. C. F.

SEIZED HIS CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD

From a New York Correspondent
Anent the Hindenburg disaster, a news-reel man confides that the calamity proved a boon to at least one of his craft. A cameraman, straggling in from the west coast where he has lost his job, won a free-lance assignment that day to assist in recording the Hindenburg's arrival. He was to get $25 for his pains.

When the Zep burst into flames, his colleagues fled the sound-truck machine, in fear of their lives. He stuck, disconnected the electric current from the cameras and by hand-grinding, took vivid, horrifying pictures of the wreck. Incidentally, he brought back the best newsreel shots of the day. Not only has he won a permanent job with the company but he has been rewarded with a sizable bonus.

SAVED BY A SURGE OF ANGER

George W. Gray in Harper's Magazine
A dramatic example of the chemico mental sequence in action was related recently by James Bertram Collip, the Canadian biochemist and former co-worker with Banting in insulin research. It seems that a diabetic patient took an overdose of insulin and did not discover his condition until he was walking on the street. Too much insulin depletes the blood of its normal sugar content, and the brain, which must have its fuel, cannot long endure the short rations. The consequences are faintness, incoherence of speech, a convulsive seizure, and eventually unconsciousness. Most diabetics carry a bit of sweet in their pockets, and a nibble will soon restore the blood equilibrium.

When this person of Dr. Collip's story felt himself getting dizzy he hurried to a nearby drug store to buy a bar of sweet chocolate, but arrived in such a wobbly state that he was unable to make his wants known. The clerk supposed the fellow was drunk, and threw him out of the store. This act enraged the chocolate seeker. His rage got in its work; his adrenals poured adrenalin into the blood stream, the adrenalin activated his liver to release sugar, and thus resuscitated, the gentleman regained his control sufficiently to proceed to another drug store and make his purchase.

Queen Mary Wept

Edward F. O'Day in The Recorder, San Francisco

ACCORDING to a news dispatch from London, the moving pictures of the Coronation were pre-viewed and a bit that showed the Queen Mother dabbing at her tear-brimmed eyes with a handkerchief was deleted.

We hope that the news dispatch was incorrect.

Why should not the subjects of His Majesty George VI and the rest of the world see the royal mother yielding to natural emotion? In the circumstances, could a true mother maintain a Spartan calm? We don't believe it.

Mothers weep with mingled joy and sorrow when they see their radiant daughters standing before the altar of marriage. And the hearts of all the wedding guests go out to them in complete human understanding.

Queen Mary, like the true mother she is, must have been the prey of powerful emotions during the ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

She must have rejoiced that her were lengthened to permit her to see her second son ascending the throne of his ancestors. She must have been saddened when she thought of that other George who was the partner of her royalty for so many eventful years.

And of course she was thinking of her boy, Edward.

Some day, perhaps, we shall know of the grief that the recent tragic episode has caused Mary. Being a mother, it is almost superfluous to point out, is quite different from being a mother-in-law. No matter what Mary may feel about her prospective daughter-in-law, it would be preposterous to doubt her love for her oldest boy.

All that Abbey pageantry could not distract the mother's thoughts from her firstborn baby who has grown up to relinquish a throne. Was he not the apple of her eye? Was he not her hope as well as the hope of the Empire? Across the water in France he listened by radio to the historic words that he should have been speaking.

In France! Surely Mary thought of those dreadful days that Edward had spent so gallantly in France when civilization was in upheaval; when as her mother's instinct told her about the impetuous young man, any gazette might have his name among the dead.

"One day he went to a hospital," says Hector Bolitho, "where he was allowed to see only the more happy and presentable patients. He knew there were others, and he asked to see them. These were men in another ward who had been deformed by their wounds. He spoke to them, and when he came to the end of the ward he was asked not to go into the next room, where there was a man misshapen beyond recognition. He went into the room and found a man, horribly torn, lying upon the bed. He leaned over the bed and touched the soldier's cheek with his lips."

Surely Mary was thinking of that. It was what Francis did to the leper of Assisi. Surely she thought of that day in the London soup kitchen when he pointed to a youngster and exclaimed indignantly: "That lad has no shirt under his coat." Surely she thought of him in the coal pits of unhappy Wales; in the slums of Glasgow. Surely she thought of that day when a loaded pistol was pointed at his breast and, unperturbed, he rode on to the palace to be clasped, undoubtedly, in a mother's arms.

The Chair of Scone, the crown of the Confessor could have no magic to dim those memories. Instead, the mother's eyes were dimmed with tears.

Yes, we hope that dispatch was incorrect.

SOME PROVINCIAL BOND PRICES

From The Ottawa Journal
A look at the prices quoted for provincial bonds these days shows the loss of confidence in the securities of Alberta which has developed out of its present fantastic financial policy.

Alberta 4 per cent bonds can be bought for $62. For bonds bearing the same interest the British Columbia issue costs $93.50, Manitoba $88.50, Saskatchewan $79, New Brunswick $102.25, Ontario $108, Quebec $106.

Five per cent bonds are $65 in Alberta, $101.25 in B.C., $96.50 in Manitoba, $87.50 in Saskatchewan, $112.75 in New Brunswick, $115.75 in Nova Scotia, $115.25 and $120 in Ontario.

The explanation is, of course, that Alberta has defaulted on three bond issues, arbitrarily has cut the interest rate on all its outstanding debentures, that purchase of its securities is a highly speculative proposition. The Aberhart regime has brought ruination of that intangible asset called credit, which means public confidence. There is no assurance now that the word of the government of Alberta on a contract means what it purports to mean.

WOMEN AND POLITICS

To the Editor:—Being a public servant, of a kind, I am not able to write to The Colonist about its leader Saturday, headed, "Women and Politics." I say this because if I signed my name I might get fired. But, as a male of the species, I want to compliment the morning paper on its effort to try to get the voters of this and other communities to realize that the men folk have no first mortgage on intellect, clear thinking, or wise judgment. Occasionally, when circumstances have permitted, I have gone over to the Legislature and listened to the debates. It was in 1906 that I first "sat in," and I must say, Mr. Editor, that on practically every occasion I came away thoroughly unimpressed. Mrs. Ralph Smith, long since gone to her last rest, loaned a new tone to the debates of the Legislature. Mrs. Steeves and Mrs. Paul Smith have added their contribution. Victoria, always "progressively behind," had an opportunity on June 1 of sending a woman representative to the Legislature. I have heard

Mrs. Nancy Hodges speak from the platform, over the radio, and I felt sick when, after polling more than 6,000 votes, she was not included in the chosen four for Victoria. There are many men who will compose the next Legislature who, I feel sure, have not half the brains that Mrs. Nancy Hodges possesses. PUBLIC SERVANT.

The gods conceal from men the happiness of death, that they may endure life.—Lucan.

CONVERSATION SUBJECT

Wouldn't we find conversation flat if we both agreed that I would rarely talk of you and I would seldom speak of me? Now this, no doubt, would be true. That we'd both expire with sheer ennui. G.S.

SCHOOL SHOWS VARIED WORK

Pupils of Mrs. Wilfrid Ord in Concert of Solo and Group
Entertainment

A wide variety of individual and group characterizations were presented in the Shrine auditorium on Saturday night by pupils of the Victoria School of Expression, under the direction of Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, F.T.C.L., A.T.C.M., M.R.S.T.

Mrs. Ord, recognized as one of the city's leading exponents of the art of expression, has followed the British trend of training voice and action to symbolize the part portrayed without leaving the recognized standard of good English.

A choral group of children, who have won four cups in competition, opened the programme with three songs, "Twilight Shadows," "Come Unto These Yellow Sands" and "Atishoo." Ensemble speaking of verse, showing careful and delicate training in a form of expression which is musical without music, was demonstrated by the first-year juniors of the school. The juniors were John Ball, John Canova, Robert Chisholm, Ann Hirst, Elaine Hart, Marjorie Kinsey, Mary Paterson, Pat McClement, Donald Kalfus, Edmund Rose and Carol Watson.

FANTASY AND PLAYS

The fantasy, "Sherwood Forest," arranged by Mrs. Ord, as well as the two one-act plays, gave opportunity for individual expression in the characterization of the various parts. Those taking parts were Dorothy Davies (Maid Marion), Marygold Nash (Robin Hood), Robert Wilkinson (Merry Man) and Clemency Ord (Bird).

"The Whisker" and "Thursday Evening" were the one-act plays, and those taking part in the former were Carol Watson (Wizard), Mary Paterson (Nice Goblins), Pat McClement (Rabbit) and Doreen Cleator (Princess). In the latter play were Dorothy Davies (Laura Johns), Leslie Clarke (Gordon Johns), Opal Abercrombie (Mrs. Sheffield) and Clemency Ord (Mrs. Johns).

Other numbers included a trio, "Now Golden Day," by Ada Burt; Clemency Ord and Robert Wilkinson; "Her First Ball," dance and song by Clemency Ord and Dorothy Davies, pupils of Miss Dorothy Cox; solo, "Shepherds and Maidens," by Marygold Nash, who also sang "Londonderry Air." Miss Ord, Miss Davies and Leslie Clarke appeared in the scene, "As You Like It."

VERSE READING

The seniors' group was heard in verse reading, "The Moon Is Up." This group consisted of Ada Burt, Dorothy Davies, Leslie Clarke, Mel Hughes, George Little, Clemency Ord, Marygold Nash and Charles Maunsell. In their second number, the choral group gave "Lullaby" as a vocal ensemble. George Little, versatile entertainer, was heard in a monologue, "The Bald-headed Man," given by request. The boys' choir of St. Louis College gave two songs, "Cavalier Song," and "Rose of Tralee."

The following is a list of those taking part: John Ball, John Canova, Robert Chisholm, Ann Hirst, Elaine Hart, Marjorie Kinsey, Mary Paterson, Pat McClement, Donald Kalfus, Edmund Rose, Carol Watson, Dorothy Davies, Marygold Nash, Robert Wilkinson, Clemency Ord, Ada Burt, Doreen Cleator, George Little, Mel Hughes, Charles Maunsell, Opal Abercrombie, and the Victoria School of Expression Choir. The accompanist for the evening was Evelyn Vallant-Tidbury, A.T.C.M., and stage arrangements were under the direction of Capt. Wilfrid Ord, ably assisted by George Little, Mel Hughes and Clemency Davies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WANTS TO SEE SOME ACTION

To the Editor:—Mr. Hartnell has exploded another gas attack against the unhappy communists. At the same time he states that the Young Citizens' League has taken up the task of opposing the spread of Fascism and Communism.

I would like to point out that his anti-Fascist admirers have almost given up hope, after more than year of patient waiting, that the long anticipated attack on Fascism is about to materialize. We are getting desperately bored with never-ending attacks on Communism, so please, Mr. Hartnell, get busy on the Fascist front and show us with the same devotion and enthusiasm what the Young Citizens' League can do to expose this growing menace. ANTI-FASCIST. Inlet Avenue.

IN THIS BEAUTIFUL CITY

To the Editor:—In this wonderfully beautiful and materially wealthy city there are homes in which the people are slowly dying for love and understanding; some are growing calloused by their long waiting—and who can blame them?

Well, so much for the serious side of life. Here's a joke. The identity of the young lady is withheld, but the memory of her answer lingers on with the instructor conducting a science course at a local high school. One of the requirements in the written quiz was: "Define a bolt and nut, and explain the difference, if any." The girls wrote:

"A bolt is a thing like a stick of hard metal such as iron with a square bunch on one end and a lot of scratching wound around the other end. A nut is similar to the bolt only just the opposite, being a hole in a little chunk of iron sawed off short, with wrinkles around the inside of the hole."

The startled professor marked that one with a large "A."

NOT A SPENT FORCE

To the Editor:—Rev. Robert Connell's statement that he is through with politics is just what we Socialists expected. But his assertion, that there is no need of a third party, is most surprising, especially in view of the fact that he left the C.C.F. to form a fourth party. This is mental gymnastics, if you like, and such restlessness of mind may somewhat explain why he did not long remain a Socialist.

Those Socialist boom days of 1933, when, under the leadership of Mr. Connell, we seemed to make such tremendous strides toward our goal of a new social order, are pleasant to look back upon. Judge our surprise and disappointment when, like a bolt from the blue, he suddenly gave our organization a knockout blow. However, "truth crushed to earth shall rise again," and it is a source of great satisfaction from the June election to learn that we are as strong as ever, and not, as some incompetent judges say, "a spent force."

CURFEW FOR DOGS

To the Editor:—May I express my opinion on the matter of barking dogs at night?

Having come to Victoria for a rest and change after a long and serious illness, I might say I am not able to benefit as much as I should on account of this nuisance, which is very disturbing, especially at nights. One night recently I was awakened no less than six times between 11 and 1.30 o'clock by barking dogs in this neighborhood.

May I appeal to the owners of dogs and suggest that 10 o'clock is time for dogs to cease barking at night, and 8 o'clock in the morning soon enough for them to start—with a later hour on Sundays and holidays.

I might add that I am a great

Inclement weather yesterday failed to dampen the ardor of quite a large number of Victoria music lovers who turned out in cars to hear the programme of the Canadian Scottish Band in Beacon Hill Park.

Under the direction of Lieut. James M. Miller, the band presented a group of semi-classical selections, including "Slavonic Rhapsody," "Dessert Song" selections and "Maytime" selections, all of which were well received by the audience.

JOHNSTON-BRYSON

The marriage of Beatrice, third daughter of Mr. G. Bryson, and the late Mrs. A. Bryson of this city, and Harold John Johnston, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnston of Seattle, Wash., took place on Wednesday, June 16, in the Centennial United Church.

Rev. Andrew D. Reid officiated. Mrs. G. H. Green played the Wedding March and, as the register was being signed, accompanied Mrs. R. Pugh, who sang, "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given away by her father, was a radiant picture in a gown of white lace net in princess style, with Elizabethan collar and coronet to match. Her shower bouquet was of white carnations, mauve sweet peas, peonies and calla lilies.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys F. Dicks, wore flowered organdie in green, and aquamarine blue. Her bouquet was of white carnations, calla lilies and peonies. Mr. Wm. G. Bryson, the bride's brother, was best man.

A small reception, at which relatives and a few intimate friends were present, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Bryson, 1362 Carlin Street, which was decorated with early summer flowers, in which setting the bride and groom received congratulations.

The table was covered with a hand-made lace cloth, centred with the wedding cake, with small baskets of yellow tea roses on either side.

The bride and groom left for Seattle, the bride traveling in a brown and pink ensemble, with blinding accessories. After a honeymoon at Ocean Beach and Portland, Ore., they will make their home in Seattle.

Numerous beautiful gifts were received by the popular couple from their many friends.

Rotarians Hear Mussolini

ROME—Premier Mussolini yesterday called upon the women of Italy to fulfill their patriotic duties as breeders of future generations of Fascist empire-builders.

Addressing 60,000 feminine Fascists, Mussolini declared

Italy's future was in the hands of the Fascist mothers. Rotarians, including a group from Canada, heard Mussolini's ten-minute speech.

"As Italian women and Fascists, you have your duties," he told them. "You must be the guardians of the home and the imprint of your solicitude and love should be stamped on your sons. The generations necessary for the defence of the empire are in your hands."

A buffet supper was served, the bridal cake centring the bride's table beneath a large white bell and streamers, and decorated with vases of sweet peas and carnations.

After a honeymoon in Seattle and Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Potts will reside in Oak Bay.

The bride traveled in a grey tailored suit, yellow crepe blouse and black accessories.

Violent Deaths More Than Score

Canada's Week-end List Topped By Ontario With 17

TORONTO—Canada's week-end violent death toll was set at 26 today. Ontario topped the individual provincial lists as fine weather brought streams of cars to highways Sunday, swelling its total accident deaths to 17.

Four of the Ontario deaths were in level crossing crashes. Three were killed and six were hurt at Almonte, near Ottawa, when a C.P.R. train collided with a car. Those killed were Oswald Bigras, 19, driver; his mother, Mrs. William Bigras, and William Lavender, 39, all of Carleton Place. William Bigras, the father, was injured seriously.

At Colborne, 80 miles east of Toronto, Frank Webb, K.C., Toronto, was killed when he drove his car in front of an eastbound Canadian National train.

Another triple-death accident was near St. Thomas, where two cars collided on No. 3 highway. Those killed were: Georgina Goulett, 27, Toronto; Kenneth Bloomfield, 24, Leamington, and London, Ont., and Mrs. Emma Jane Niblake, 76, Bloomsburg, Pa. Six others were injured, five of them seriously.

ALTHOUGH they failed to win the recent six-day bicycle race held at Wembley, London, the two Victoria brothers, Torchy and Doug Peden, made a most favorable impression on Old Country critics. In the May issue of Cycling, advertised as the leading cycle journal of the world, the following was carried editorially on the Wembley event:

"The six-day race is over. The winners were Piet Van Kempen, Holland, and Albert Buysse, Belgium. This team entered the event with the best credentials, for Van Kempen, even at the age of 38, retains from his long experience of six-day riding both skill and pace, and when these are joined to his fine generalship as the master of his craft, the combination is formidable. As for Buysse, he and his bike become one in action, and it is no exaggeration to say that together they were the finest cycling 'machine' in the race.

"Greatness, however, is comparative, and in the Wembley 'six' the victors and vanquished were as close in ability as the top half of the finishing list fairly well indicated. In fact, had any of the three pairs occupying the second, third and fourth places provided the winners it would have been almost as easy to quote appropriate facts to justify the statement that 'the better team won.' Diot and Ignat, Walthour and Crossley and the Peden brothers all gave an excellent account of themselves, and were always in the news with the ultimate winners throughout the week.

"In our own view we might even single out the Pedens for special commendation. As is well-known combinations and 'arrangements' are important factors behind the scenes of every six-day race, and it is a fair estimate of the situation to believe that the Canadians were on a lone trail, yet their observation of the rules, the keenness of their efforts in every jam and their natural racing, unaided by stimulants, earned the praise of all those who followed the race closely, as a race, and not merely as a series of spectacles staged to coincide with the afternoon and evening sessions."

When Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve retained her city women's golf championship at the Colwood Club on Friday afternoon, with a one hole victory over her clubmate, Mrs. James McIlraith, she added another chapter in the book of successes enjoyed this year by members and former members of the Uplands Club. As a matter of fact it begins to look like what might be termed an "Uplands Year." Mrs. E. Jackson, Uplands, holds the British Columbia women's championship, while Kenny Lawson, who started his links career at this popular club, is the British Columbia men's amateur titleholder. All three are products of Walter Gravlin, Uplands professional, whose ability as a teacher is common knowledge.

Miss Mackenzie-Grieve is a real champion. Possessing an ideal temperament for golf, she is one of the most popular members of Victoria's fair sex golfing fraternity. Throughout last week's tournament she played wonderfully steady golf, and won all her matches through keeping out of trouble and taking advantage of her opponent's errors. Although of slight build, this Uplands' girl hits the ball straight and far, while her work around the greens is deadly. To Mrs. McIlraith we can say "better luck next time." In Friday's final this matron uncorked some lovely shots and at no time during the 18 holes was she out of the running. She showed a world of courage and will no doubt be heard from in tournaments of the future.

CHARLTON IN EASY VICTORY

Touring English Footballers Smother Manitoba All-stars 9 to 1

WINNIPEG — Charlton Athletic, England's second-ranking soccer team, routed Manitoba All-stars 9 to 1 Saturday night as they neared the end of an exhibition tour. They left last night for Toronto, where they play Wednesday.

Four thousand spectators were treated to a display of great positional play, uncanny anticipation and wonderful heading of the ball as the tourists made full use of their deadly marksmanship.

For 16 minutes the harassed defence kept the Charlton forwards at bay but, after George Robinson rifled one past the Manitoba goalie, Johnny Reid, the goal parade began.

Deadly with his head inside the penalty area, big Don Welsh, Charlton centre-forward, led the scoring with four goals, three of them in succession after Robinson's opener. Harold Hobbis, one of the team's outstanding men, scored twice and Monty Wilkinson and George Ford counted the other goals.

HAMPTON SCORES

Bobby Hampton scored Manitoba's lone marker, with the tourists leading 2 to 0 in the first half, but the Londoners came right back to add two more through well-taken goals by Welsh to lead 4 to 1 at half-time.

Five minutes after resuming, Hobbis scored and hardly had the ball been centred when Welsh breezed through alone for his fourth goal. Reid came out to block the shot but Welsh coolly lifted the ball over his head into the roof of the net.

Goals by Wilkinson, Ford and Hobbis completed the scoring, the last marker coming 10 minutes before full time.

U.S. Players Win

WIMBLEDON — H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Britain's chief hope for the Wimbledon crown, opened the 1937 All-England tennis championships today with a four-set first-round victory over G. Lytleton Rogers, giant Irish Davis Cup team player.

The British ace was accorded the time-honored privilege of serving the first ball on the centre court and, after dropping the first set 3-6, wore down his six-foot seven-inch opponent, taking the next three sets 8-6, 6-1, 6-2.

The tournament opened under ideal conditions, with a warm sun and a light breeze. Sixty-four men's singles matches were to be played on 15 courts before dark. The championships will end a fortnight hence.

Like Austin, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, the German ace, dropped the first set in his match with J. F. G. Lysaght, tall British player, 6-3, but rallied to run out the next three, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0.

Charles Hare of Great Britain eliminated Georges Metaxa of Austria, 6-0, 4-6, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Christian Bollus of France defeated C. N. H. Ritchie of England, 6-1, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Wayne Sabin of the United States disposed of R. J. Ritchie of Great Britain 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, while another American, Frankie Parker, sailed through an easy 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 victory over J. H. Ho of China.

The veteran Daniel Prenn, former German Davis Cup ace, defeated Wilmer Robertson of the United States, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2.

Marcel Bernard of France defeated R. M. Turnbull of Great Britain, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

C. R. D. Tuckey of Great Britain defeated R. V. Fontes, Great Britain, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Somerville Is Ontario Champ

LONDON, Ont.—Regaining the championship form he displayed a few years ago, C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, London Hunt and Country Club veteran, defeated John Rowswell, 20-year-old Toronto bank clerk, 6 and 5, to win the Ontario Amateur Golf Association title at Sunningdale Golf Club Saturday afternoon. Braddock-Louis Ready For Gong

Little Excitement as Heavy-weight Title Fight Only Few Hours Away

CHICAGO — The world heavyweight championship fight between James J. Braddock and Bomber Joe Louis, set for Comiskey Park, home of Chicago White Sox, tomorrow night, moved toward its climax with amazing calm today.

There was no argument about the selection of a referee, no last minute legal attempts to halt the contest, no ticket speculating scandal and very little—if any—wagering on the outcome.

Yet the bout, scheduled for 15 rounds or less, will be assured of financial success, with indications pointing to an attendance of 60,000 and gate receipts of from $700,000 to $750,000.

Out of this sum will go fortunes to the boxers, perhaps $300,000 to the champion, Braddock, who only a few years ago was on relief rolls, and possibly $100,000 to Louis, who only four years ago was a $5 a day automobile factory worker in Detroit.

Various estimates placed the cash in the strong box of Mike Jacobs, co-promoter with Joe Foley, at between $550,000 and $650,000.

LITTLE WAGERING

All the ballyhoo about Louis being sluggish in his drills and the champion being too old to retain his title against the dynamite-laden fists of the 22-year-old negro has failed to stimulate betting.

The bout is likely to go down as

Harry Woolston Gets Prize Fish

No. 1 Angler

HARRY WOOLSTON seen with the 30-pound spring salmon which he landed yesterday at Brentwood to take honors in the first competition of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association.

Lands 30-pound Salmon to Take Honors in First Competition at Brentwood

Reeling in a sporting 30-pound spring salmon from the briny depths of Saanich Inlet yesterday, Harry Woolston captured major honors in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association's opening competition of the 1937 season at Brentwood. He received the first prize trolling rod and the still more cherished emblem of angling prowess—a silver button.

A large wooden reel went to Barry Higgs, who caught the second largest fish of the day, a 22½-pound specimen. With a fish weighing half a pound less than that of Higgs, W. Holland took third prize, an Indian sweater, while W. Pankhurst with a 20-pounder won a tackle box, the fourth prize. Mrs. Gordon Hardy landed the biggest fish among the lady anglers competing. It weighed 9½ pounds. She received a silk dressing robe. Mrs. T. McPherson, with a seven-pound fish took second prize, a purse. C. Tubbs caught the biggest fish among the rowboat competitors, 16½ pounds. A vacuum bottle was his prize. J. Oldnall and Faud Ray won the consolation awards.

Woolston said he struck into the 30-pounder at 10:30 in the morning just off Quarry Bay. He had 400 feet of line out, with a pound of weight and a No. 7 diamond spoon for a lure. He had a stiff fight on his hands for 20 minutes.

350 COMPETITORS

Officials estimated that between 150 and 200 boats took part in the derby, with more than 350 anglers competing. Ideal weather prevailed, with the sun peeping through an overcast sky occasionally during the day. However, toward closing time, which was 7 o'clock, it began to rain lightly, but in spite of this a large gathering was on hand for the wind-up ceremonies at the Anchorage headquarters, where President Frank Moore officiated at the presentation of prizes and Miss I. J. Thomson, official weigher at the Anchorage, cut the fifth birthday cake of the association. All present received a piece.

Fishing was not at its best yesterday. Many fishermen came back empty handed or with one or two small specimens to show for many hours of angling. Included in this group were some of the best fishers of Saanich Inlet. Probably the best aggregate boat catch was secured by Percy Stewart and Barry Higgs. They returned with eight springs and one cod. Dave Lewis and party got six, while Frank "Doc" Smith got four. There were other threes and fours, but not many.

The poorness of fishing was attributed to the presence of schools of basking sharks and sea lions during the last few days. It was for this reason that a government fisheries patrol boat was present. The patrol boat spent the entire afternoon searching for these marauders, but apparently without success, although "Chuck" Kinlock managed to shoot a pair of the lions. He recovered one carcass. Having discovered the presence of the sharks and lions, Kinlock secured a permit to shoot them and spent most of the day on the hunt.

Gun Club Opens Shooting Grounds

Crowd of 300 Attends Inaugural Shoot at Skeet and Trap Layout

Evidence of great enthusiasm was displayed yesterday when more than 300 scattergun artists and spectators gathered for the inaugural shoot (non-competitive) at the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club's new shooting grounds, situated on the Albert Road road.

From 10 in the morning until 6:30 at night the new site resounded to the continuous booming of shotguns as local and visiting marksmen attempted to break the days.

Weather conditions were not of the best, but this did not hamper the shooters in the least as the layout is blessed with an excellent skyline. Probably the most enthusiastic persons present were the novices.

Scattergun experts from Nanaimo, Chemainus, Duncan, Port Alberni, and Vancouver were on hand for the shoot, which also attracted a great many of Victoria's old-timers.

During the day a friendly match was fired between five-man teams from Victoria and Nanaimo, with Victoria bagging four more birds than the visitors.

Officials reported that 4,500 trap and skeet clays were trapped off throughout the day.

Ernie Talt, well-known local sportsman, officially opened the inaugural shoot with a brief address in which he highly commended the building committee members on their fine work in laying out the grounds. Ernie Todd, president of the club, presented 25 silver spoons to winners of previous shoots held by the Victoria Gun Club.

An excellent clubhouse has been erected on the grounds from which refreshments were served.

Cards Take Two And Are Second

St. Louis Overtakes Slipping Giants; Yankees Whip Chicago Twice

Week-end baseball left standings in both loops almost unrecognized.

The Boston Red Sox stayed hot; the St. Louis Cardinals were hotter; the Detroit Tigers were rather warm themselves. The New York Yankees teed off in their homer-hitting specialty for the entertainment of the season's biggest crowd; the New York Giants' nose dive turned into a landslide.

The Boston Bees joined the Cincinnati Reds in the National League cellar, and the Philadelphia Athletics did the same with the bewildered St. Louis Browns in the American League.

Here was the set up: The Cardinals were in second place in the National League. Lon Warneke pitched a four hitter and Dizzy Dean a five hitter to belt the stingless Bees 6 to 2 and 9 to 1 yesterday.

The Giants, still minus the winning ways of Carl Hubbell, sagged to third place, although they won their single game from the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, 4 to 3, with the aid of the breaks.

The year's top crowd, 68,939, packed Yankee Stadium to see Murderer's Row pound the Chicago White Sox all over the lot and win twice, 8 to 4 and 7 to 4.

After extending their winning streak to six straight, longest in two years, by taking the double bill opener from the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 2, the Red Sox dropped the nightcap 8 to 7, but still retained fourth place.

DETROIT WINS TWO

Detroit's Tigers took advantage of tight throwing by Elden Auker and Tommy Bridges and flogged the floundering Athletics in a pair, 6 to 3 and 8 to 1.

This twin whipping dropped the A's into a last place tie, as the Browns were unable to do much with Wes Ferrell and lost 5 to 3 in their single game with Washington.

After spending a day in the National League cellar, the Phillies decided it wasn't what they wanted, and not only climbed out again, but advanced all the way to sixth with a 6 to 5 conquest of the league-leading Cincinnati.

SINGH WINS MUD BATTLE

Professional wrestling went to the extreme in a novelty presentation at the Tillicum gym on Saturday evening, when Harnam Singh beat James Morrissey, former Red Shadow, in a mud battle.

The pair of huskies played around in the mud like a couple of three-year-olds, rubbed it in each other's faces and even went to the extent of getting out of the ring and frolicking among the spectators. Singh, in his native element, pinned Morrissey after eight minutes.

Treating the fans to a real exhibition of wrestling, with all the clowning and showmanship eliminated, Paul Boesch and Billy Hanson battled to a draw, each taking a fall with the use of drop kicks.

Ole Olsen gained a one-fall victory over Herbie Freeman in a bout which saw lots of slapstick comedy but little wrestling. In the local preliminary, Pat McGregor took a one-fall win over Jim Casey.

ALBIONS IN LEAGUE WIN

Defeat Victoria A Cricketers at Beacon Hill; Victoria B Victors

Albions defeated Victoria by four wickets and two runs Saturday afternoon in a Victoria and District Cricket Association League match played in a down-pour of rain at Beacon Hill Park. Batting first, Victoria were all out for 68. Albions replied with 70 for the fall of six wickets and then drew stumps.

H. A. Goward led the Victoria batsmen with 14, while G. H. Kinch knocked out 13. Pritchard opened well for the Albions, scoring 22 runs before being caught out by Ley. Hogarth with 14 runs was the only other member of the winning side to reach double figures.

Pite bowled well for the Albions, taking seven wickets for 31 runs. Gillespie had the best score for Victoria with three wickets for eighteen runs.

VICTORIA B WINS

Playing through a steady down-pour of rain, Victoria B cricketers took the measure of the Cowichan eleven Saturday afternoon by seven wickets and 7 runs in a friendly fixture played on the up-island pitch.

Cowichan were able to knock up only 50 runs when they opened at bat, while the visitors wielded the willow successfully for 57 runs for the fall of three wickets.

Just A-Rarin' To Go

It's horsing around like this by highstrung colts that causes such long delays at the start of races. While rivals stand quietly in the stall gate at a New York track, Vamoose, with Jockey Workman up, prances and rears in his eagerness to get the afternoon's assignment over with. He spent so much energy at the post he could finish no better than third.

Wet Sailing For Amateur Skippers

Victoria amateur yachtsmen tested out stars and dinghies in vagrant breezes and rain over the week-end at Cadboro Bay.

On Saturday afternoon the dinghies were put through their paces in the Devonian Cup series in a driving rain and a north-westerly breeze.

On Sunday the stars and dinghies were tested out in the special race series in a light southeasterly wind.

Ripples, skippered by Tom Hallett, and Aquila, with Alex Packford at the tiller, were the only star boats sailing yesterday, the former winning by three minutes.

Commencing at 1.30 a.m., the stars sailed three times around the course to Cattle Point, rounding Cadboro Bay buoy and home, a distance of about five miles.

At the end of the first round Ripples was leading by about 30 seconds and was well ahead at the end of the second round.

The dinghies yesterday were scheduled to sail three times around the course to Patterson Point, back to the beach mark and back home, a distance of four and a half miles, but the wind dropped as the race was called at the end of the second round, after sailing a distance of about three miles.

At the end of the first round Helen was leading by about six lengths, with Diabolo about a length ahead of Kismet, and Dab-chick, Tern, Onaway, Penguin and Puffin trailing in that order.

At the finish the dinghies crossed the mark as follows: Diabolo, Ian Acland, 12.55.10; Tern, Gordon Campbell, 12.57.45; Onaway, Peter Hincks, 12.59.05; Babchick, Tom Beeching, 12.59.40; Kismet, Harry Gann, 12.59.55; Helen, Jack Todd, 10.05.00; Penguin, E. P. Ashe, 10.30.00; Puffin, G. Johnson, 18.20.00.

ON SATURDAY

Seven dinghies competed on Saturday, sailing twice around the course from the Yacht Club dolphin, Flower Island, Cattle Point, around the beach mark and back home.

First over the line, Diabolo maintained the lead on a port tack to Flower Island with the other craft closely bunched, Tern gaining on a starboard tack to Cattle Point.

Tern led Diabolo at the first round, with Penguin a few feet in her wake, followed by Diabolo, Kismet, Onaway, Helen and Falcon. The Falcon, sailed by Dr. B. E. Nickells, dropped out after this round with a wet sail.

Finishing times were: Tern, Gordon Campbell, 4.50.00; Dabchick, Tom Beeching, 4.50.03; Penguin, E. P. Ashe, 4.51.00; Diabolo, Ian Acland, 4.53.30; Kismet, Harry Gann, 4.57.10; Helen, Jack Todd, 5.00.00; Onaway, Peter Hincks, 5.01.07.

NEWS IN BRIEF

From 2 to 4, Wednesday afternoon, Esquimalt Elementary School will hold an open day and reception during which pupils will be seen in classroom activities to be followed by a display of work.

By provincial government order today a game reserve was established at Florence Lake, just off the Island Highway, south of Langford Lake. The reserve covers the lake and the land for 150 yards around it.

Saturday's tag day in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses netted the handsome sum of $591.66. The committee is most grateful to the public for its generosity and to all who assisted in tagging.

A severe earthquake was recorded on the instruments of the Victoria Meteorological Observatory this morning. The tremors began at 7.24 a.m. and lasted for two hours. The distance to the epicentre was computed at 4,670 miles.

George Gibson, 430 Luxton Street, was shaken up but not injured when he was knocked down by a car at Broad and Johnson Streets shortly after midnight Saturday, according to a city police report. The driver of the car was W. H. Anderson, 832 Wollaston Street.

About 200 Boy Scouts from Nevada and California visited Victoria today en route to the jamboree in Washington, D.C. The party, which is touring part of the United States before attending the jamboree, arrived on this afternoon's boat from Seattle and left later for Vancouver.

A reciprocal arrangement between British Columbia and Alberta, whereby estates of persons who lived in one province and owned property in another would escape double taxation, has been ended. The Alberta government cancelled its part in the agreement on May 19 and rescission of the British Columbia pledge followed today as a matter of course. No reason was given for Alberta's cancellation of the agreement. British Columbia has similar arrangements with several other Canadian provinces.

Student Movement Summer Programme

The Victoria College branch of the Student Christian Movement of Canada will carry out its summer programme in the form of a study-group led by Dean C. S. Quainton. The study material is in "The Teachings of Jesus," by C. H. Oldham, based on the first three gospels.

After the first study-period tomorrow, meetings will be held Monday evenings at 8, in the Deaneys, 852 Burrill Avenue. All college students, especially those intending to enter Victoria College this fall, are invited to attend. Further particulars may be obtained from Dean Quainton or from Ernest Bishop, secretary, phone E 9175.

The local graduate group of the movement will continue its programme in the form of bi-weekly outings, with John Macmurray's "Creative Society" as the basis of study. The next meeting will be on June 26, at Foul Bay beach, where Miss Idele Wilson, now doing post-graduate work in economics in the University of Toronto, will report on the recent Canadian Youth Congress in Montreal. Miss Hilda Marshall, telephone E 6271, is in charge of arrangements.

To Consider Fortin Plan

The alternate plan of Jules E. Fortin for refunding of Victoria's debt was scheduled for discussion this afternoon at a closed informal meeting of the City Council.

After several lengthy sessions over the week-end with Charles Henley, city's fiscal agent, Mayor Andrew McGavin said this morning there was a plan prepared which was ready for consideration by the aldermen.

The mayor would not divulge details of the scheme until such time as aldermen had an opportunity to peruse it and formulate some decision on it.

Two Girls Are Killed By Gas

VANCOUVER — Two three-year-old girls, Kathleen Boyce and Joan Brewer, were asphyxiated today when they climbed a fire escape and walked through an unguarded door into an apartment filled with cyanide gas used for fumigation.

Kathleen's two-year-old sister, Eileen, was in hospital, where her condition was reported "fair."

CANADA YOUTH WORK IS TOLD

Business Can Share in Solving Problem of Recovery, Chambers Says

With the government doing its part in providing training for unemployed young men and women, it is up to business to make some slight sacrifice as its contribution to solving one of the main problems of recovery—by providing jobs.

That was the theme of an address delivered before the Gyro Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel today by Alan Chambers, chairman of the Dominion National Youth Employment Committee.

The problem of recovery was to be found in the young men and women — between 170,000 and 175,000 of them in the Dominion — who had come out of schools during the depression and had found no jobs or at the best only casual employment. Now, with jobs becoming available, they had to meet the competition of their younger brothers and sisters who had just completed their training and were better equipped in experience as well as in morale.

Coupled with this problem was the immensity of a shortage of trained labor to fill the places in industry which during the last few years had been held by men of far higher ages than was normal, said Mr. Chambers. This shortage was so real a possibility that already there was talk of the need for renewed immigration.

With $1,000,000 voted by the federal government and another $1,000,000 to be supplied by the provinces, the committee had worked out a quadruple formula to be carried out by the provinces within a federal framework. So far British Columbia was the only province which had put it properly into execution.

The four projects were: The provision of work and training, with both wages and instruction at the same time, for those whose morale had been impaired by the longest unemployment; short-term industrial apprenticeships; physical training, and occupational training.

The philosophical basis of the formula was to encourage the young men and women to take advantage of the opportunities provided them under the scheme, without compulsion.

In addition to this immediate problem of employment there was a longer range question on the side of education.

The first necessity, said Mr. Chambers, was a thorough survey of the possibilities of employment in each province. He hoped British Columbia would also lead in this field, as it had done in the provision of free technical education, free physical training and work in the conservation of natural resources, as in the forestry groups and in mining.

Mr. Chambers paid tribute to John Kyle, director of technical education for the province. "Training without a job is at the best only a temporary thing. Experience can only be gained from the job itself," he said. "Canada is still growing. . . . It is of supreme importance that she should utilize all her own young men and young women of this and coming generations."

Mr. Chambers was introduced by J. S. Taylor, M.P. for Nanaimo. Angus McIntyre presided.

Season May Be Closed Earlier

The halibut fishing season in Area Two, the control district along the northern British Columbia coast, will probably be closed earlier than last year, the International Fisheries Commission intimated today in a notice to fishermen and other interested parties.

Last year the season closed August 10. The catch in Area Two is well ahead this year and if it is maintained at the present rate the close down will be earlier. The season is governed by quota.

The total halibut catch to May 31 in Area Two was 11,084,720 pounds against 10,091,700 last year. In Area Three, the Alaskan section, the catch was 7,419,293 against 6,819,566 pounds last year.

FINDS STORE BEING ROBBED

W. Hitchcox Disturbs Thieves at Premises of E. A. Morris Ltd.

Thieves who entered the premises of E. A. Morris Limited, tobacconist, Government Street, shortly before midnight last night were interrupted by W. Hitchcox, manager, and escaped without taking anything.

According to a city police report, Mr. Hitchcox reported he had just entered the store at 11.55 last night when he heard a noise upstairs.

Sergt. A. H. Bishop, with Constables E. Sturrock, A. Nichol and T. Bannister, immediately responded, but found no sign of the thieves.

Police did find, however, that entry had been gained by removing three panes from the skylight and using a knotted rope to lower themselves into the store. A short-handled 10-pound hammer was found at the end of the rope.

The escape was apparently made by the use of a ladder to a roof trap door, which led to the fire escape on Langley Street.

COMMISSIONER SPEAKS HERE

Rev. E. J. Springett, commissioner for Canada of the British-Israel World Federation preached in St. John's Church on Sunday morning. His text was Isaiah 43:21: "These people have I formed for Myself and they shall show forth My praise," and he showed how God, in choosing Israel for His people, had trained and led them, even while they rebelled against Him, into a place he had appointed for them, and from whence they were to spread forth the gospel of salvation to all the world.

In the afternoon, Mr. Springett addressed a mass meeting in the First Baptist Church, W. H. Blackaller, Dominion president, being in the chair.

Mr. Springett's subject was "The ideal state which would have been ours had we kept the laws and ordinances given to us by God in the Bible, instead of the distress and world chaos we are now experiencing." He also said that those who discredited prophecy as expounded in the Old and New Testaments discredited Our Lord who was the Greatest Prophet of all and who, in His Own Person, fulfilled all that was spoken of Him.

Mr. Springett preached again at St. John's evening service. His sermon, taken from Hebrews 12:10, was on "Christ, our mediator and future King on earth, and our duty as Christians to fight the powers of evil abroad today."

On Monday afternoon at 3 Mr. Springett will be present at a gathering in the Y.M.C.A. instead of at Mrs. Gillespie's, Gonzales; and in the evening at 8 at a mass meeting in the First Baptist Church.

Chemists in City On Short Visit

Fifty-eight members of the Canadian Chemical Association, representing all parts of the Dominion, paid a brief visit to Victoria yesterday at the conclusion of their annual convention in Vancouver.

The party breakfasted on the overnight boat which brought them from the mainland, and left immediately in buses for a trip to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Butchart's Gardens, and across by the Mill Bay ferry for a return drive over the Malahat.

The chemists returned to Vancouver on the afternoon boat.

Halibut Poll To Go Ahead

The provincial government today authorized an extension of ten days, from June 15 to 25, in the time for taking a poll of halibut fishermen on a scheme of regulated marketing.

The poll, to be taken by a newly-established Halibut Marketing Board, was postponed owing to confusion arising out of the Manson decision that the Marketing Act is ultra vires. It has now been decided the board will go ahead with the vote and will know what position to take when the Court of Appeal rules on the act.

The appeal on the Marketing Act is listed for argument June 24 and an early decision is anticipated.

Word has been received by city police that Miss Dorothy Humphries, who was missing from her home here for several days, is safe up-island, where she has secured employment.

Old Boys Rise To Prominence

Successes of Former Pupils
Of St. Michael's School
Here Listed

The extent to which Old Boys of St. Michael's School have gone from Victoria to become leaders in many lines in almost every corner of the world, is emphasized in the annual report, just issued by E. J. Symons, secretary of the St. Michael's School Old Boys' Association.

"There are now over 400 Old Boys of St. Michael's, of whom 111 are life-members," Mr. Symons reported. "In the near future it is hoped that the sons of some of the earlier members of the school will be attending the second generation. The Old Boys are distributed practically throughout the world, though, of course, the majority are in the British Empire. Similarly, almost every recognized business or profession has its quota of Old Boys, many of whom are outstanding. We are in constant communication with the majority and find in the mail letters from Sofia, New Zealand and India side by side."

"As far as it is possible to say definitely, the following is a correct list of the occupations engaged in by the Old Boys, and the number employed in each: Army, 10; diplomatic service, 3; music, 3; general business, 64; farming, 10; merchant marine, 17; journalism, 5; mining (engineers) 6; architects, naval architects, 3; art, 3; law, 8; science, 8; teaching, 7; medicine, 12; police, 5; banking, 11; wireless, 7; mechanical engineers and the R.A.F., 22; forestry, 2; Royal Military College, 6. Several Old Boys have special occupations such as scale model building for engineering, radio announcing, water diving and deep well boring. The remainder are completing their education at colleges, universities, law, technical and art schools."

"Allowing for constant change and variation of address, the following list shows the distribution of the Old Boys: England, 62; Scotland, 5; France, 3; China, 6; India, 2; Japan, 3; United States, 20; Malaya, 3; New Zealand, 3; Africa, 7; Bulgaria, 1. In Canada: British Columbia, 200; Alberta, 10; Saskatchewan, 3; Manitoba, 5; Ontario, 5; Quebec, 7; Eastern Maritimes, 2."

LEADERS IN COLLEGE

"In 1936 in six of the leading educational institutions of Canada, the head boys were St. Michael's School Old Boys, as follows: Brentwood College, Shawnigan Lake School, Victoria College, which is affiliated with the University of B.C. (the president and two members of the student council); University of B.C. (president of the men's undergrad society); Royal Military College, McGill University (Dr. Robertson took the highest honors in medicine and surgery). At the moment of writing this message has arrived, stating that an Old Boy has been transferred from Calgary to Fort Norman to act as superintendent of the Imperial Oil Company development plans. This year the head boy of Brentwood College is again one of our Old Boys. The Rhodes Scholar for British Columbia is an Old Boy — D. Fulton. The highest ranking chemical engineering graduate of Queen's University is another — I. Drum. Our scholarship winner of last year at Upper Canada College has had his scholarship renewed, as the boy proved 'one of the best winners we have had in years,' as the principal expressed it."

"Two more boys, who will join the ranks of the Old Boys' Association have also just won scholarships. In medicine, Dr. Reid of Edinburgh has won honor after honor. Dr. Winter of Honolulu has just written, stating that he has been transferred temporarily to Wake Island as surgeon to the Pan-American Airways. When he wrote he was in a clipper plane and had just performed an operation—in the air. While on the subject of flying, let me just mention four more points. Joe Fretwell pilots a Pan-American clipper from Florida to Brazil. Jack Fulton of Heliopolis, Egypt, was one of the selected pilots for the R.A.F. squadron flight to Nairobi. S. Cowan was one of eight pilots selected in Canada for a commission in the R.C.A.F. P. Maxwell in England has been testing the new planes for the R.A.F.

"T. Gurney, a medical missionary, found time to write while he was fleeing from Addis Ababa under shell-fire. Also in Northern Africa is Edward Aglen, one of our most loyal and frequent writers. Edward, whose father was so well known in China, was stationed at Kordofan as a district commissioner. He was moved to the Sobat River on the boundary of Ethiopia during the crisis, and sent us a picture of his detachment of Sikhs from there. But perhaps the most distinguished Old Boy in the diplomatic service is Norman Stirling. He was third secretary in the British legation at Peking a few years ago. From there he was moved to Moscow, where he was temporarily in charge owing to the death of his superior and the absence of his chief. Now he is the first secretary in the legation at Sofia, Bulgaria."

ON ATHLETIC FIELD

"Among athletes, too, the Old Boys have made their mark. R.M.C. this year sent a picked squad to the Ottawa tattoo. It won the first prize, just beating the famed Mounties. Our representative was on that squad. Several of the boys are on the first teams for basketball, soccer and English rugby. T. Todd at McGill is one of Canada's outstanding long-distance runners. D. Hinks was for years the badminton champion of British Columbia. Eric Yorath was the same for Alberta as well as 'ing the Calgary tennis champion. In soccer, rugby and rowing, the Old Boys have won a great name for themselves, and always they have been outstanding for their clean, fast play. Our leading journalist is the night editor of a big London, Eng., newspaper, and is now earning a reputation as a short story writer."

"And so the list goes on without ceasing. But the chief among all honors is the fact that every boy has taken the school motto—Nihil magnum nisi bonum—'Nothing is great unless it is good,' as his personal slogan, and has kept to it unceasingly."

Theft of 36 packages of cigarettes, cigarette papers, candy and chewing gum from his small confectionery store in the Parliament Buildings grounds was reported to city police by Keith Stapleton. The theft occurred over the week-end and Detective Henry Jarvis investigated, found entry was gained by smashing in windows of the store.

CAPITOL THEATRE
 Gay, sparkling Paris and thrills-packed St. Moritz, capital of Switzerland's winter sports region, form the background for Claudette Colbert's comedy-romance, "I Met Him in Paris," in which she is teamed with Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young. "I Met Him in Paris," now at the Capitol Theatre, is a fast-moving story of the adventures of a vacation-seeking girl who discovers that she's in love with two handsome, charming men at the same time, without being able to choose between them, until she is finally forced to a showdown.

The annual display of domestic science work and manual training, held under the auspices of the James Bay P.T.A., will take place on Thursday afternoon next at 3, in the auditorium of South Park School. The girls will parade on the stage in dresses of their own creation, and the various articles of handiwork of the boys will be displayed. Four prizes will be awarded for the best work, the judges being Mrs. F. G. Skillings and L. Campbell. The musical contribution will be furnished by Mr. Bevan-Pritchard, who has selected a group of girls from the school choir who will render an entirely new repertoire under his direction. The refreshment committee of the association, under the convensership of Mrs. Phelps, will serve afternoon tea.

FINE SHOW

AT OAK BAY

Coronation Pictures Show Westminster Ceremony

"Isle of Fury," the brilliant Warner Bros. picturization of Somerset Maugham's romance of the South Seas, "Three in Eden," opens at the Oak Bay Theatre tonight.

The hero of the thrilling story is Val Stevens, a man of primitive instincts and a refugee from the law, who has built up a profitable pearl fishery on a remote Pacific island.

Also showing is a complete motion picture record of the Coronation filmed in Westminster Abbey and the streets of London by the largest staff of cameramen ever assembled, in co-operation with British Movietone News. It was edited by Sir Malcolm Campbell and Gerald Sanger, personally supervised by Truman H. Talley and commented in London by Lowell Thomas.

WHIP FIGHT GYPSY CODE
 Thrilling Combat Scene in Soviet Movie Now at Columbia

The workings of the primitive gypsy code which prescribes a fight with whips between two members of a camp unable to get along with one another is depicted in a thrilling combat scene in "Gypsies," the new Soviet picture at the Columbia Theatre today.

In the picture Yudko challenges the gypsy chief Danilo to combat because Yudko believes that his daughter has been fatally stabbed by Danilo.

Inflamed though he is with passion, Yudko grows nothing more deadly than a whip. Even his instinctive rage finds its expression within the limits of the gypsy law.

JEAN ARTHUR IS AT ATLAS
 Featured in "History Is Made at Night" Today's Release

Posing for the "stills" which are taken at the end of each scene, may be an anti-climax to some stars, but to Jean Arthur it's just as important as working in front of the motion picture camera.

Bill Thomas, veteran Hollywood man, who photographed Jean on the sets of Walter Wanger's "History is Made at Night," in which she is currently co-starring with Charles Boyer at the Atlas Theatre, says she's so expert in camera technique, lighting and other qualifications of her craft that she could handle the job herself.

"History is Made at Night" is released through United Artists. Frank Borzage directed this sparkling romance from the pens of Gene Towne and Graham Baker. Leo Carillo, Colin Clive and Ivan Lebedeff play important roles.

Prince Edward Takes Airing

Little Prince Edward, 20-month-old son of the Duke and Duchess of Kent, peeks out from under the sun-shelter of his pram at admiring passersby in London. The little prince, whose curly head might conceivably wear the crown some day, was named for his uncle, Edward, the present Duke of Windsor.

TRIANGLE IS PLAZA THEME
 Gable, Loy and Harlow Featured in "Wife Versus Secretary"

The perfect triangle has been found at last. It is made up of Clark Gable, the husband; Myrna Loy, the wife; and Jean Harlow, the "other woman."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brought these great stars together to form the triangle in its brilliant filmization of Faith Baldwin's best-seller novel, "Wife Versus Secretary," currently playing at the Plaza Theatre.

Flawless in story, flawless in performance, masterful in direction, dazzlingly beautiful in setting and smart in dialogue, the new picture is the latest artistic triumph for the producers of such all-star hits as "Mutiny on the Bounty," "China Seas" and "A Tale of Two Cities."

Musical Hit At Dominion

"Turn Off the Moon," which opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, is as gay a musical comedy as Hollywood as yet produced. Irregular Losses In Quiet Trading On Wall St. Today

NEW YORK (AP)—In the slowest trading in about two years, the stock market sagged irregularly today.

Most of the session's losses were resistant. They had the aid of hopes of a peaceful settlement of strikes and the estimate of a steady production pace.

In late trading, however, this group slipped a cog and joined the rest of the list for moderate declines.

Although Wall Street expressed satisfaction at the start of the federal mediation board conference with employers and strike leaders, opinions were qualified by fears negotiations might be long drawn out.

The calmness with which the market greeted word of the fall of the Blum government in the French budget crisis showed, brokers said, attention was primarily on the strikes.

Transactions approximated 450,000 shares.

Reports of serious black rust damage in winter wheat territory drove wheat up the full 5 cent allowed limit for some contracts. It closed 4 1/2 to 5 cents a bushel higher. Corn was up 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents. Bonds were lower. Cotton was higher. At mid-afternoon the pound sterling and French franc were off a little.

The Story of Baseball

CRICKET AND ROUNDERS
In the British museum is a leather-covered ball which was dug up in Egypt. This ball, 'airily well preserved, is believed to have been tossed around by Egyptians of 3,000 years ago, or more.

Grip used while bowling a "googly" in cricket

Old Egyptian pictures of people throwing balls give us further proof that ball games were played in their country long ago. We also know that the Greeks and Romans played ball, but all the ancient games were different from baseball of today.

Going back in English history, we find two games which in some ways were on the order of baseball, though not just the same. I am thinking of "cricket" and "rounders".

An early form of cricket, called "club-ball," was played 700 years ago. Cricket today is Great Britain's most popular outdoor sport.

In cricket, a hard ball, about the size of a tennis ball, is used. The ball is struck by a cricket bat, which might be called a "cross" between a baseball bat and a paddle. A cricket match may last three days, and hundreds of runs may be made by each side.

During a visit to England, I played rounders with some boys and girls in Stratford-on-Avon. We used a soft rubber ball, and could run when we batted it in any direction. When a player picked up the ball he would throw it at the runner, trying to put him out by hitting him with it while he was between bases.

That method of playing rounders has been known in England for more than a century and a half, and it still is followed in some contests. Almost 50 years ago, however, "official" rules were made for games between regular teams, and these rules called for changes. The most important ones were the use of a hard ball, and a rule that a person should not be counted out if hit by a ball.

Among the other official rules which were made for rounders are these:

Ten players to each side.
A game to last three innings.
Every player to bat during each inning.

A player is out if he bats a ball which is caught on the fly or after the first bounce, or is tagged with the ball while running between bases.

Rounders is more like baseball than cricket, but there are many ways in which it is different from baseball. Tomorrow we shall take up early days of baseball on our continent.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

TUESDAY, JUNE 22, 1937

According to astrology this is a day of menacing aspects. Men and women should exercise foresight. This is regarded as an unfortunate date for signing important deeds or contracts. The points appear to indicate unexpected events which will change plans.

Business and government heads should be wary of making agreements for the future. The stars encourage caution in all things. Under this configuration there may be misrepresentation and deceit, which will affect individuals as well as nations. While ill omens are discerned by those who read the stars, the aspects encourage constructive work which tends to strengthen resistance under any sort of misfortune.

Women will benefit through domestic occupations all through the summer. This means that they should make the most of family hospitality and general good fellowship.

As automobiles and trailers multiply, Americans will be prepared to meet emergencies in living conditions which will develop rapidly through the summer. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of some content, which will demand resourcefulness. Both men and women should benefit through their own industry.

Children born on this day probably will be efficient in whatever they like to do. Subjects of this sign of Cancer have good prospects for 1937.

Caroline Healy Dale, writer and educator, was born on this day, 1832. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Wilhelm von Humboldt, German philologist, 1767; and Julian Hawthorne, writer, 1844. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

HOLD-UP MAN HUNTED

VANCOUVER — Police are searching for a man who attempted to hold up Evelyn Green, 22, returning home from a dance Saturday night. The man followed her and told her to "stick 'em up," but ran when she threatened him with her umbrella, she reported.

You Can Train Your Wife

IT IS A MATTER of common observation that at every wedding the bridegroom is a hundred times more scared than the bride. He, pallid and haggard, staggers to the altar on frozen feet and knees that threaten to give way under him. She, radiant and triumphant, sweeps grandly down the aisle with the expression of the cat that has just eaten the canary.

Many reasons have been suggested for this attitude of the bridegroom. One is that he is crushed with humiliation at perceiving that he is of no importance at the function, and the only way he happens to be there is to furnish an excuse for the white satin and orange blossoms, the ornate bridesmaids and the champagne. That, of course, explains the mystery in part, but the real reason the bridegroom is jittery is because he suddenly realizes the awful, the terrifying, the appalling fact that he doesn't know anything on earth about women.

And here he is making a contract to take and keep until death shall them part one of the creatures about whose disposition, manners and habits he knows as little as he does of the fauna of the jungle, and with which he feels himself as little fitted to deal as he would with lion taming. He doesn't even know what she likes to eat and whether to feed her on bonbons or accustom her to a diet of plain bread and butter. He doesn't even know how to domesticate her, and whether it is better to pet her and humor her along or to treat her rough.

So it is no wonder that the poor bridegroom is all a-tremble as he regards the magnitude of the task he has undertaken and whose difficulties all the disgruntled husbands exaggerate to him. But he need not be, for in truth women are simple and primitive creatures, who are ruled through their emotions; who can be easily managed and taught to jump through the hoop and roll over and play dead and eat out of the hand of any husband who will stroke their fur the right way and reward them with a few pats on the head.

So to the prospective bridegroom I would say: Get off on the right foot in marriage. When you bring your little pet home and put her in a cage, put on a bold front. Don't let her see that you are afraid of her. Be good and tender and kind to her, but don't let her get the mastery, or else you will be a poor henpecked husband, who is scared to say his soul is his own the balance of his life.

Many men, while the glamour of the honeymoon is still over them, lack the nerve to control their wives and tell them they can't afford this or that, and that they have to live within their budget. Or they kiss Sweetums and make her think it cute for her not to know how to cook and to snooze away half the morning. As a result, they find themselves wrecked by their wives' extravagance and enlisted in the army of husbands who have to do the housework when they come home of an evening, and get their own breakfasts.

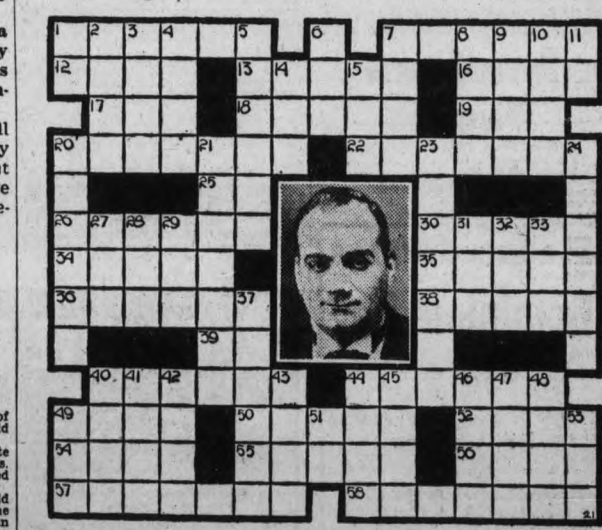

Train your wife in the way you want her to go. Why a man doesn't think it as much worth while to teach his bride his tastes and habits and ways of doing things and how to give satisfaction in her job as he does a new stenographer, nobody knows. Hence, if you want your wife to be domestic, take an interest in house-keeping and praise her skill as a chef. If you want her to be thrifty, show her how to keep a budget. If you want her to be a companion, read with her and talk to her. And so on. Half the wives who are failures are failures because they don't know what their husbands expect of them.

Don't be a boor at home and a gentleman abroad. Don't say things to your wife you would not say to any woman who had an able-bodied brother.

Don't dress your wife in hand-me-downs and begrudge her the price of a hair wave, and then tell her how beautifully dressed and perfectly groomed some other woman always is.

ALASKA-YUKON PARK PLANNED

Roosevelt Favors International Scheme; Skagway
As Free Port

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt is represented as "very receptive" to a plan to make part of British Columbia and the Yukon into an international park
and Skagway, Alaska, a free port.
Under the project envisioned
by Senator Lewis B. Schwellen-bach of Washington State and Delegate Anthony Dimond of Alaska, the section of Canada
dipping southward toward
Skagway, Alaska, from Chilkoot
Pass to the Chisana-White River
Pass on the eastern border of Alaska would be made into an international park.

For months the two have been considering the scheme to obtain from Canada sufficient land to provide an "inside route" for United States fliers between Skagway and the main body of Alaska. At present aviators must fly over Canadian soil, which involves international law, or skirt
the rugged, glacier-bound coast—a hazardous undertaking in winter.

Last week Schwellenbach and Dimond, armed with maps, visited the President. They said they found the President "very receptive"—especially to the idea of an international park.

They explained by making the block of country an international playground citizens of the United States as well as Canadians would have access to it, or could fly over it without customs restrictions.

In exchange for Canada's concession of land, the United States would, under the proposal, make Skagway a free port, thus giving Canadians in the adjacent Yukon free access to the sea without annoyance of present United States regulations.

Schwellenbach said the President was "going into the matter further." Meanwhile, the Washington senator is studying possible legislation.

LINER AFIRE OFF SAMOA

Passengers Reported Taken
Off Ss. Macdhui in South
Pacific

SYDNEY, Australia — Dispatches received from Samoa said passengers on Sunday were taken off the British liner Macdhui, burning fiercely near Sal-anua in the Samoan Islands.

The liner was said to be drifting helplessly, with its engines
put out of commission by the fire.
The steamship Neptune was racing to the Macdhui's assistance. Dispatches did not make clear whether passengers were in the liner's lifeboats or aboard another ship.

(The Macdhui is a 4,561-ton liner owned by Burns, Philp & Company of Sydney. She was built in 1931.)

SYDNEY, Australia—The captain of the British liner Macdhui, which caught fire in the South Pacific, reported late today all danger was past.

The steamship Neptune, which raced to the liner's assistance, completed the transfer of passengers and began towing the Macdhui to port.

When the fire broke out, 150 native passengers were put ashore by boat on the New Guinea coast as a precaution against possible panic. They were returned to the vessel as soon as the blaze was under control.

A second fire broke out later,
but was subdued.

Famous Comedian Is Coming Here

LAKE LOUISE—Scotland's comedian number one, George West, passed through here yesterday without a joke to tell.

"It's the first time in my life that I have been overawed by an audience of such proportions," said Mr. West as he waved his hand towards Victoria Glacier and snow-tipped peaks.

Fort the last eleven years
George West has been packing
the Princess Theatre in Glasgow twice a day from mid-December until mid-May, establishing the record of being the only comedian in the world to hold such a lengthy continuous record.

In company with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. H. McGilvie, proprietor of the Princess Theatre,
George will visit Vancouver and Victoria before continuing down the coast to California where he will sail for New York via Panama.

Removing the green film of copper salts from old brass articles may make them look less antique, but a museum official points out that when such relics are exhibited the aim is generally to show them as they looked when in daily use.

Ranger Again Leads Rainbow

NEWPORT, R.I.—Ranger, Harold S. Vanderbilt's undefeated candidate for defence of the America's Cup, Saturday scored her sixth straight victory by trouncing Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, the sloop with which Vanderbilt turned back T. O. M.
Sopwith's British challenger Endeavour in 1934.

Ranger crossed the finish line
11 minutes and 5 seconds ahead of Rainbow, the widest margin of victory in the trial races to date.

The race was sailed over a 26.3-mile triangle in a light southeasterly breeze, which ranged in velocity from 8.8 to 10.6 miles an hour. The light air and smooth sea furnished what had been considered ideal conditions for Rainbow and the result was a surprise.

Observers agreed Ranger, since she has been equipped with her new mast and rigging, is a much faster boat than in the opening trial races.

Progress Made On Ship Negotiations

Substantial Advance Toward Agreement on Canada-
Australasian Service

SOUTHAMPTON—Sir Edward
Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated Saturday that plans and specifications for new steamships for the service between Victoria, Vancouver, Anstralia and New Zealand were being put into final form.

Before boarding the liner Empress of Britain for Quebec, Sir Edward said: "I am very glad to be able to say substantial progress had been made towards the conclusion of agreements for improved steamship service between Canada, Australia and New Zealand."

Sir Edward discussed the matter of increasing British shipping on the Pacific Ocean
